

Bartlett and Conklin selected to GPS HOF

Two long-time senior golf pioneers were recently inducted into the first ever Great Plains Senior Tour (GPS) Hall of Fame class.

Wayne “Bart” Bartlett, course manager at Dawson Creek in Scotland, SD, and Mike Conklin, clubhouse manager at Beresford, SD for many years and now working as an assistant at Hawarden (IA) Golf Club, were recognized in ceremonies held recently.

In his role at Dawson Creek, Bartlett has set the standard on how to organize and operate a senior golf tournament. This reputation is well-earned among senior golfers as Wayne is known for hospitality, smooth-running events and serving a great meal. He has hosted numerous events in Scotland over the past 15 years and participates in many other GPS events as his schedule allows.

Mike Conklin was a long-time clubhouse manager in Beresford, SD now working as an assistant at the Hawarden Golf Club. Like Wayne, Mike was well known for running a great tournament and treating all golfers like kings. Mike is one who does not like the limelight, but this award has been earned and very well deserved.

Bartlett and Conklin were presented with GPS Hall of Fame plaques in September. Dawson Creek will be the “official” home of the GPS HOF and their plaques will hang on a wall in the clubhouse.
